

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

Could you please tell me something about family? What place does the family have in God's plan of creation?

- A) A man and a woman who are married to each other form, together with their children, a family. God wills that the love of the spouses, if possible, should produce children. These children, who are entrusted to the protection and care of their parents, have the same dignity as their parents. (CCC 2201-2206, 2249) God himself, in the depths of the Trinity, is communion. In the human sphere, the family is the primordial image of communion. The family is the unique school of living in relationship. Nowhere do children grow up as well as in an intact family, in which they experience heartfelt affection, mutual respect, and responsibility for one another. Finally, faith grows in the family too; the family is, the Church tells us, a miniature church, a "domestic church", the radiance of which should invite others into this fellowship of faith, charity, and hope.
- B) The family doesn't have any role in God's plan of creation.
- C) Our Almighty Father left for the government of countries to determinate God's plan for human family.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

One child asked me this question: Why are families irreplaceable?

- A) This is the old theology. We do not think that way any more.
- B) Families are irreplaceable because of tax purposes.
- C) Every child is descended from one father and one mother and longs for the warmth and safety of a family so that he may grow up secure and happy.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

One child asked me this question: Why are families irreplaceable?

A) This is the old theology. We do not think that way any more.

B) Families are irreplaceable because of tax purposes.

C) Every child is descended from one father and one mother and longs for the warmth and safety of a family so that he may grow up secure and happy.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

Could you please tell me something about family? What place does the family have in God's plan of creation?

A) A man and a woman who are married to each other form, together with their children, a family. God wills that the love of the spouses, if possible, should produce children. These children, who are entrusted to the protection and care of their parents, have the same dignity as their parents. (CCC 2201-2206, 2249) God himself, in the depths of the Trinity, is communion. In the human sphere, the family is the primordial image of communion. The family is the unique school of living in relationship. Nowhere do children grow up as well as in an intact family, in which they experience heartfelt affection, mutual respect, and responsibility for one another. Finally, faith grows in the family too; the family is, the Church tells us, a miniature church, a "domestic church", the radiance of which should invite others into this fellowship of faith, charity, and hope.

B) The family doesn't have any role in God's plan of creation.

C) Our Almighty Father left for the government of countries to determine God's plan for human family.