

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

Last week we were talking about children respecting their parents. How do parents respect their children?

- A) Children are parents property and they do not have to respect them.
- B) Parents respect children when they buy them every year the latest cellphone.
- C) God entrusted children to parents so that they might be steady, righteous examples for those children, that they might love and respect them and do everything possible so that their children can develop physically and spiritually.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

Does the Catechism of Catholic Church talk about respecting parents by children? How does a child respect his parents?

- A) A child respects and honors his parents by showing them love and gratitude. [CCC 2214-2220, 2251] Children should be grateful to their parents in the first place because they received their life from the love of their parents. This gratitude establishes a lifelong relationship of love, respect, responsibility, and obedience, rightly understood. Especially in times of need, sickness, and old age, children should lovingly be there for their parents and care for them faithfully.
- B) A child respects and honors his parents by paying his bills.
- C) The Catechism doesn't talk about it.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

Does the Catechism of Catholic Church talk about respecting parents by children? How does a child respect his parents?

- A) A child respects and honors his parents by showing them love and gratitude. [CCC 2214-2220, 2251] Children should be grateful to their parents in the first place because they received their life from the love of their parents. This gratitude establishes a lifelong relationship of love, respect, responsibility, and obedience, rightly understood. Especially in times of need, sickness, and old age, children should lovingly be there for their parents and care for them faithfully.
- B) A child respects and honors his parents by paying his bills.
- C) The Catechism doesn't talk about it.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

Last week we were talking about children respecting their parents. How do parents respect their children?

- A) Children are parents property and they do not have to respect them.
- B) Parents respect children when they buy them every year the latest cellphone.
- C) God entrusted children to parents so that they might be steady, righteous examples for those children, that they might love and respect them and do everything possible so that their children can develop physically and spiritually.