

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

I had an argument with some of my friends about self-defense, could you tell me please: Why is it permissible to tolerate the killing of another human being in the case of legitimate self-defence?

A) The Church doesn't allow us to kill other person, even in self-defence.

B) The Church doesn't want to talk about that. This is entirely up to the individual.

C) Someone who is actually attacking the lives of others may and must be stopped, if necessary by killing the attacker himself. (CCC 2258-2262, 2318-2320)

An attack on life is a sacrilege committed against God. Human life is sacred; this means that it belongs to God; it is his property. Even our own life is only entrusted to us. God himself has given us the gift of life; only he may take it back from us. The Book of Exodus, translated literary says "You shall not murder" (Ex 20:13).

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

I have a question about capital punishment. Why is the Church opposed to capital punishment?

A) The Church is committed to opposing the death penalty because it is "both cruel and unnecessary".

B) The Church doesn't see any problem with capital punishment.

C) The Church promotes capital punishment.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

I have a question about capital punishment. Why is the Church opposed to capital punishment?

- A) The Church is committed to opposing the death penalty because it is “both cruel and unnecessary”.
- B) The Church doesn't see any problem with capital punishment.
- C) The Church promotes capital punishment.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

I had an argument with some of my friends about self-defense, could you tell me please: Why is it permissible to tolerate the killing of another human being in the case of legitimate self-defence?

- A) The Church doesn't allow us to kill other person, even in self-defence.
 - B) The Church doesn't want to talk about that. This is entirely up to the individual.
 - C) Someone who is actually attacking the lives of others may and must be stopped, if necessary by killing the attacker himself. (CCC 2258-2262, 2318-2320)
- An attack on life is a sacrilege committed against God. Human life is sacred; this means that it belongs to God; it is his property. Even our own life is only entrusted to us. God himself has given us the gift of life; only he may take it back from us. The Book of Exodus, translated literary says “You shall not murder” (Ex 20:13).