

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

I am not sure, if it is appropriate to ask this question. Any way I will ask: Must Christians be pacifists?

- A) Of course, every Christian should be pacifists. This is the teaching of our Lord.
- B) The Church strives for peace but does not preach radical pacifism. Indeed, no one can deny either the individual citizen or particular governments and alliances the fundamental right of armed self-defense. War is morally justifiable only as a last resort.
- C) The Church doesn't have any opinion about that.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

What does the Church say about anger. How does a Christian deal with anger?

A) St. Paul says, "Be angry but do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger" (Eph 4:26).(CCC 2302-2304)

Anger is initially a natural emotion, a reaction to perceived injustice. If anger becomes hatred, however, and someone has ill-will toward his neighbor, this normal feeling becomes a serious offense against charity. All uncontrolled anger, especially thoughts of revenge, are detrimental to peace and destroy "the tranquility of order".

- B) A Christian is never angry, that means he doesn't have to deal with it.
- C) Anger has nothing in common with the life of the Christian.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

What does the Church say about anger. How does a Christian deal with anger?

A) St. Paul says, "Be angry but do not sin; do not let the sun go down on your anger" (Eph 4:26).(CCC 2302-2304)

Anger is initially a natural emotion, a reaction to perceived injustice. If anger becomes hatred, however, and someone has ill-will toward his neighbor, this normal feeling becomes a serious offense against charity. All uncontrolled anger, especially thoughts of revenge, are detrimental to peace and destroy "the tranquility of order".

B) A Christian is never angry, that means he doesn't have to deal with it.

C) Anger has nothing in common with the life of the Christian.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

I am not sure, if it is appropriate to ask this question. Any way I will ask: Must Christians be pacifists?

A) Of course, every Christian should be pacifists. This is the teaching of our Lord.

B) The Church strives for peace but does not preach radical pacifism. Indeed, no one can deny either the individual citizen or particular governments and alliances the fundamental right of armed self-defense. War is morally justifiable only as a last resort.

C) The Church doesn't have any opinion about that.