

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

One of my friends asked me this question: What is the significance of a child in a marriage?

A) Pope Francis wants to open a discussion on this topic. He doesn't think that children are important in marriages.

B) A child is a creature and a gift of God, which comes to earth through the love of his parents. (CCC 2378, 2398) True love does not desire a couple to be self-contained. Love opens up in the child. A child that has been conceived and born is not something "made", nor is he the sum of his paternal and maternal genes. He is a completely new and unique creature of God, equipped with his own soul. The child therefore does not belong to the parents and is not their property.

C) The Church should not talk about this topic. It is not the Church's role to talk about children in a marriage.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

One day with my family we had a discussion about children and the question came up:
How many children should a Christian married couple have?

A) Every Conference of Catholic Bishops should say how many children a Christian married couple should have. Canadian Bishops said that at least seven.

B) The Church feels that this is not her job to talk about it.

C) A Christian married couple has as many children as God gives them and as they can take responsibility for.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

One day with my family we had a discussion about children and the question came up:
How many children should a Christian married couple have?

- A) Every Conference of Catholic Bishop should say how many children a Christian married couple should have. Canadian Bishops said that at least seven.
- B) The Church feels that this is not her job to talk about it.
- C) A Christian married couple has as many children as God gives them and as they can take responsibility for.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

One of my frienda asked me this question: What is the significance of a child in a marriage?

- A) Pope Francis wants to open a discussion on this topic. He doesn't think that children are important in marriages.
- B) A child is a creature and a gift of God, which comes to earth through the love of his parents. (CCC 2378, 2398) True love does not desire a couple to be self-contained. Love opens up in the child. A child that has been conceived and born is not something "made", nor is he the sum of his paternal and maternal genes. He is a completely new and unique creature of God, equipped with his own soul. The child therefore does not belong to the parents and is not their property.
- C) The Church should not talk about this topic. It is not the Church's role to talk about children in a marriage.