

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

One day I went to the casino, after a few hours I left and on the way home this question came to my mind: May a Christian make bets and play games of chance?

- A) Christians can not go to the casino to play. It is a great sin to bet and play games of chance.
- B) Betting and gambling are immoral and dangerous when the gambler risks his livelihood. It becomes even worse if he risks the livelihood of other people, especially those entrusted to his care. [2413] Morally speaking, it is a highly dubious practice to wager large sums on a game of chance while others lack the bare necessities of life. Betting and gambling, furthermore, can be addictive and enslave people.
- C) The Church doesn't want to talk about that.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

I am not sure what the church says about this. Is it permissible to "buy" and "sell" human beings?

- A) No human being, not even parts of a human being, may be turned into commodities, nor may a person make himself a commodity. Man belongs to God and has been endowed by him with freedom and dignity. Buying and selling people, as is common practice nowadays, and not only in prostitution, is a profoundly reprehensible act.
- B) The Church feels that this is not her role to talk about it.
- C) In some situation, the Church doesn't have problem with selling and buying human beings.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

I am not sure what the church says about this. Is it permissible to “buy” and “sell” human beings?

- A) No human being, not even parts of a human being, may be turned into commodities, nor may a person make himself a commodity. Man belongs to God and has been endowed by him with freedom and dignity. Buying and selling people, as is common practice nowadays, and not only in prostitution, is a profoundly reprehensible act.
- B) The Church feels that this is not her role to talk about it.
- C) In some situation, the Church doesn't have problem with selling and buying human beings.

How well do you know the Catholic faith? Well, let's find out..."

One day I went to the casino, after a few hours I left and on the way home this question came to my mind: May a Christian make bets and play games of chance?

- A) Christians can not go to the casino to play. It is a great sin to bet and play games of chance.
- B) Betting and gambling are immoral and dangerous when the gambler risks his livelihood. It becomes even worse if he risks the livelihood of other people, especially those entrusted to his care. [2413] Morally speaking, it is a highly dubious practice to wager large sums on a game of chance while others lack the bare necessities of life. Betting and gambling, furthermore, can be addictive and enslave people.
- C) The Church doesn't want to talk about that.